

Mohamed Mubarak

Digital Mentee eTech

Mohamed Mubarak has successfully participated in the online tech mentoring program eTech.

This program consists of six mentoring sessions in which mentees get to know their tech profile, tech application processes as well as best practices on how to work in multi-disciplinary tech teams.

Mentees build and reflect their “tech personality” based on their mentors’ insights into tech job application processes and best practices when working in multi-disciplinary teams.

The following topics were addressed in the training sessions:

- How to build a mentorship
- Identify one’s strengths and weaknesses in tech
- Learn more about career paths in tech
- Master a tech job interview
- Best practices in communicating your tech
- Build a next-steps plan

We congratulate you and wish you all the best in your future professional endeavors!
